Society Sees the Opening of the Racing Season

Picturesque Garden Club Party to Be Held Wednesday

Reception Will Be in Honor of the New President, Mrs. Edward R. Hewitt, and the Board of Directors—United Hunts Association Meet Successful.

WITH conditions in every way favorable the outdoor suburban season started in with much eclat last Tuesday at the spring meet of the United Hunts Association, which was held at Belmont Park Terminal, and it proved one of the largest meets of that organization. There was much to induce attendance, with the attractive course and best conditions for motoring either from the city or nearby country places. The race and membership committees including Messrs. F. Ambrose Clark, C. L. A. Heiser, Roy Jackson, Henry L. Bell, Richard H. Williams, Jr., S. Bryce Wing, R. Penn Smith, Jr., F. Skiddy von Stade, A. Fillmore Hyde, Rufus C. Finch, Henry A. Buck, John McE. Bowman, Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., Henry O. Tallmadge, Charles E. Mather and Norrie Sellar, received many compliments on the success of the undertaking in the course of the day.

In advance of the races there was a crowd for luncheon at the Turf and Field Club, formerly the country place of the late William Manice, and it was found necessary to serve numerous parties at tables placed under the trees on the lawn. This was no hardship, as the gardens of the estate were at their best, with their beds of spring flowers and shrubs in full bloom. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt 2d, who came from her place in Jericho, had one of the luncheon parties at the club, another being given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, who came from Wheatley Hills. Others of the Long Island contingent having luncheon at the club included Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Townsend, just back from the Riviera; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Willets, Mrs. J. E. Smith Hadden, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bryce Wing, Miss Audrey Hoffman, Mrs. Norrie Sellar, Sir T. Ashly Sparks and his daughter, Mrs. Van Duser Burton. After luncheon those who had been entertaining friends at the club walked across the highway to the race course, where others were congregated who had come from country houses or town. Among the interested spectators was Mrs. E. Henry Harriman, whose three daughters, Mrs. Robert L. Gerry, Mrs. Rumsey and Mrs. R. Penn Smith, Jr., also were present.

The next important gathering at Belmont Park will be on the occasion of the first spring race, which will be run at the regular course of the park on May 25. Another suburban race meet will be that of May 27, which will be held at Nutbourne Farm, King street and Harrison avenue, Port Chester, for the annual spring race meet of the Fairfield and Westchester county hounds, of which Mr. John McE. Bowman and Mr. M. Roy Jackson are joint masters. It promises to be one of the successful amateur meets of the season, and there will be represented Greenwich and Stamford, as well as the towns of Rye, Harrison, Port Chester and White Plains.

A feature of the day will be the ladies' race, a flat race, over about three-quarters of a mile of turf, for horses owned and ridden by young women members of the Fairfield and Westchester county hounds. The annual horse show at Tuxedo Park on June 2 and 3 will bring to an end the suburban season, and after that departures for country places will be in order.

The reception and garden party of the International Garden Club which the members will hold next Wednesday in honor of the newly elected president and board of governors is sure to attract many friends of that organization to the club house, which is the old Bartow mansion, in Pelham Bay Park, and it will make an agreeable motor ride from the city.

Mrs. Edward R. Hewitt is the new president and Mr. Alton B. Parker vice-president, and they, with Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair and Mrs. Robert Waller, will receive the members and their friends. In addition to the display of spring flowers in the well laid out gardens, there will be tea in the club house as well as music, and for a diversification there will be the dancing of the Antientus sisters, Dutch girls, whose interpretative and national dances will be executed in the tulip gardens, suggestive of their native country, Holland. Several hundred invitations already have been accepted, and with fair weather it will be one of the notable spring gatherings.

An incident of last week quite out of the ordinary was the formal opening last Monday night of the Morgan Memorial Hall of Minerals and Gems, in the Museum of Natural History, which was presented to the city of New York in memory of his friend, the late John Pierpont Morgan, by Mr. George Fisher Baker. The reception held in the new hall at the invitation of Mr. Baker attracted many persons of prominence of the scientific world, as well as of the social world. Those who never before had seen the collection of minerals and gems were much impressed by them and by the arrangement in their new surroundings. Some of the rare gems might well be worn to adorn women, and the American pearls in particular, while not set, were so arranged as to show what effect they would have if made into head ornaments or necklaces. The hall was designed by Messrs. S. Breck P. Trowbridge and Goodhue Livingston, and the neutral colors of the background of the new hall brought out the exquisite colors of the wonderful gems as never before. These gems had been collected by Dr. George F. Kunze, one specimen, the Kunzite, being called after him. Mrs. H. Fairfield Osborn received the many guests, among whom were members of Mr. Baker's family, including Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodby Loew and also members of the Morgan family, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Miss Anne Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee.

In honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the State Charities Aid Association, which was organized on May 11, 1872, by Miss Louise Lee Schuyler, a great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt will open her house at 640 Fifth avenue next Wednesday afternoon for a meeting of the mental hygiene committee of that association, and at the meeting there will be discussed a program for mental health in the State of New York. Invitations have been issued in the name of the committee, of which Dr. William L. Russell is vice-chairman and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, a daughter of the late E. Henry Harriman, is chairman of the sub-committee.

Mrs. Rumsey will preside at the meeting, and among those associated with her will be Mrs. H. Otto Wittgen, who was Miss Caroline Bayard Stevens of Castle Point, Hoboken, N. J. Miss Schuyler is one of the historians of the Thursday Evening Club, which has been in existence since 1878. She is one of the few surviving founders of that club, which is unique in the social history of New York.

Among those associated with Miss Schuyler in the State Charities Aid Association are Mr. Charles Evans Hughes, who is honorary chairman of the committee on celebration, and Dr. John H. Finley chairman.

Among the homecomers now on the ocean is Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who passed the winter on the Riviera and at Cap Martin. She will go first to her place, Beacon Towers, in Sands Point, L. I., a place built close by the waters of Long Island Sound, whose chateaulike structure looks much like a bit of old France. Later she will go to Newport, where possibly she will open Marble House, which has been closed for several seasons. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dixon, Jr., who went abroad last November, are coming on the Olympic, and after passing a few weeks in New York will go to Southampton, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potter Breese and their small daughter, Beatrice, who sailed last autumn, soon after leaving Southampton for part of the winter in Algiers, are now on the ocean. They will be for the summer at Shinnecock Hills with Mrs. Breese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Clifton. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Johnson have returned to New York from a six months trip in Japan and China.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. S. Franklin, who went abroad early in April, will sail on the steamship Majestic, which will leave England on its maiden voyage this week, and immediately after their arrival will go to Royston, their country place in Locust Valley. Mrs. Richard Stevens is to sail on this steamship on May 20 to join her daughter, Miss Dorothy Stevens, in England. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reading Bertron will arrive from Europe this week and will go to Old Brick Farm, in Roslyn, L. I.

Invitations have been sent out by the directors and the house committee of the New York Nursery and Child's Hospital for an inspection of the hospital on Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, when they will be present to receive visitors, who will be conducted about the various wards. Next Friday, May 12, is Florence Nightingale day, and all the hospitals in this city have been asked by the United Hospital Committee to observe the day by extending a warm welcome to all visitors. The officers and directors of the New York Nursery and Child's Hospital are: Dr. Edward L. Partridge, president; Mrs. Algernon Sydney Sullivan, vice-president; Mr. Charles Boucher, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Spencer Witherbee, corresponding secretary; Mr. George Emilen Roosevelt, recording secretary; Mrs. John M. Bowers, Miss Eleanor Le Roy, Mrs. James W. Gerard, Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, Mrs. Robert Nicol, Mrs. H. Hartley Jenkins and Mrs. John T. Pratt.

Ingenuity Shown by Women in Plans for Street Fair

American Novelties to Dominate Event for the Benefit of the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children.

MUCH ingenuity is being shown by the women of the various committees who have in hand the arrangements for the street fair for the benefit of the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children, which will be held for several days, beginning May 16, in the plazas between Forty-sixth and Fiftieth streets, in Park avenue, which are overlooked by many tall apartment houses and hotels.

Mr. Francis Burrall Hoffman, Jr., who has designed the layout of the fair which will transform these four blocks, will have the assistance of Mr. Charles Barney. Such fairs in foreign countries have been borne in mind in the plans, but Mr. Hoffman's idea is to have the plan as American as possible. For instance, the block between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets will be the garden spot and on the bricks of the plaza unexpected gardens will spring to life and in this block will be erected a great dancing platform surrounded by tables where refreshments will be served. Part of the space will be devoted to flower and cigarette booths and a model flower garden.

The supper arrangements will be under the direction of Pierre, who has accepted the chairmanship of the supper committee, and the advisory committee will include Messrs. Charles E. Mitchell, George H. Howard, Frank E. Kesch, Albert Gallatin and Edward Van Ingen, Messrs. Charles E. Mitchell, Charles Hayden and Frederic Potts Moore. There will be a small charge of admission and books of entrance tickets will be sold. Mrs. Gallatin will have the assistance of Miss Dorothy Collins as head waitress and there will be a corps of young women to help.

During the afternoon this section will be given over for tea, and Mrs. Rufus L. Patterson will have charge of the arrangements, assisted by Misses George S. Brewster, Frederic Martin Davies, Edward S. J. McVickar, Oliver Paris, W. de Lancy Kountze, William Fitz Hugh Whitehouse, James R. Sheffer, Goodhue Livingston, Casimir de Rham, J. Horace Harding and Edward S. Coy.

Mr. Lawrence S. Butler, who has had much experience in such events, will act as head of the dance committee, with the assistance of Messrs. Esmond O'Brien and Anton Schefter. The dance platform will be surrounded with floral arches and gates and lighted with lanterns swung from ornamental uprights.

There will be a large dance committee, that will include Misses John H. Auerbach, Harry Appleton Curtis, J. Henry Alexander, Richard E. Enright, G. Maurice Heckscher, Reginald M. Lewis, Fulton Cutting, Louis W. Noel and Philip L. James. Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Auchincloss, Mr. and Mrs. Person S. Prentiss, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Galvin,

MRS. SYLVANUS STOKES, JR., WHO CAME FROM WASHINGTON TO ATTEND THE MEET; WITH HER, IS MR. W. WHITEWRIGHT WATSON.

Miss Belknap will be married to Lieut. Andrew R. Mack, U. S. N., on June 11 in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newport, and after the ceremony there will be a large reception at the home of her parents on Washington street. Miss Belknap, who is one of Newport's most attractive debutantes, will have her sister, Miss Emilia Field Belknap, for her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Harriet Jenkins of this city and Miss Mary Jocelyn of Boston.

Lieut. Mack, who is in New York awaiting orders, will have his brother, Mr. Wallace Preston Mack, for his best man. Capt. Belknap, the bride's father, is on the staff of the Naval War College.

A military wedding takes place in Washington this month which is of much interest to society here, for the bride-to-be, Miss Antoinette Wood Eno Graves is a New York girl but has spent much of her time in Washington, where she has many friends and relatives, as well as in Paris. She will become the wife of Major Robert Charles Frederick Goetz, Field Artillery, U. S. A., on May 17 at the home of her great aunt, Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood, 1619 Rhode Island avenue. The ceremony, which will be at noon, will be followed by a breakfast and reception at the home of Miss Graves's uncle, Mr. William Phelps Eno.

Miss Graves is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Leon Graves of 329 Park avenue, and Paris, a granddaughter of the late Robert Graves and a great-granddaughter of the late Ames R. Eno. Major Goetz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Frank Goetz of Cape Girardeau, Mo. He was graduated from West Point in 1909, was aide de camp to Gen.

Cabaret and Ball to End the Screen Popularity Contest

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt 2d Undertakes Management of Details of Dance.

MRS. WILLIAM K. VANDERBILT 2d, who has many successes to her credit by way of entertainments for philanthropic or charitable organizations has undertaken the management of many details of the ball to be held on Tuesday night at the Hotel Astor, which will bring to a close the motion picture popularity contest and she has found willing cooperation among her hosts of friends in society who are likely to attend en masse.

The ball will center about the Cinema cabaret in the midst of fully 150 tables, where will be seated on-lookers who also can partake of refreshments in the course of the dance which will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and last for an hour and a half. After that there will come a show, in which Broadway favorites will participate and next will follow the elimination of candidates from lists posted at either end of the great ballroom.

This contest to determine the most popular screen actor and actress concerns society quite as much as it does filmdom and especially so as the May Carnival Committee is giving it for the benefit of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

Every 10 cents spent for a vote will count and there also should be much revenue from the sale of tickets at $10 each. Seats at the tables are $15 each, including admission and supper, and for $50 a table seating six may be obtained. All the grand tier boxes have been sold and there are some in the second tier for which the committee is obtaining $15 each. Assignments of seats and tables is being made at the headquarters of the committee 1 East Fifty-seventh street.

Boxes or tables already have been obtained by Messrs. E. Henry Harriman, John T. Pratt, E. Roland N. Harriman, George B. Post, Charles B. Alexander, Cornelius N. Poole, Mrs. Minton Pinchot, Miss Virginia Potter, Mrs. Charles D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Charles L. Tiffany, Mrs. Frank A. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Felix Warburg.

Mrs. Ransom S. Hooker, who is an expert in matters of club management, is assisting the committee by taking charge of the problem of finding the proper location and choosing the building.

Rummage Sale for Wheeler Day Nursery

A rummage sale for the benefit of the Winifred Wheeler Day Nursery will be held at 21 East Fifty-seventh street tomorrow and Tuesday, and contributions of anything salable will be received there gratefully.

Among those who will be in charge are Mrs. James H. Hays, W. Ross Proctor, R. Burnham Moffat, Henry A. Griffin, Arnold Wood, Charles M. Connel, Alfred Edwards Ayers and Clifford V. Brokaw.

Pictures and Dance For Darrach Home

Much interest is being displayed in the success of the motion pictures and dance to be given at the Plaza on Friday evening by the Sowers for the benefit of the Darrach Home for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Henry R. Slayback, president of the Sowers, will entertain the junior committee, forty in number, at a buffet supper preceding the dance. Prior to the presentation of the movie dinners will be given by Mrs. Louis S. Kerr, Mrs. Frederic West MacDonald, Mrs. Christopher M. Lowther, Mrs. Charles Henry Guye and Mrs. Edward Wyckoff Harris.
